'NO FOR EVER' MAN' IN NEW U.S. PROGRAM

RESOURCE BOARD SUBMITTAL SCHEME TO WHITE HOUSE

Six-Year Works Plan—Hard-scrabble Land Retirement—Back-to-Homestead Move Is Included.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—The National Resources Board Sunday outlined an encyclopedic long-range plan for the use of the land and water and mineral resources of the United States, which is destined to stir wide discussion.

The group-headed by secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes—asserted it would lead to "the broad distribution of human welfare at which our national policy aims."

High up among the recommendations of the board, described by secretary of labor Frances Perkins as capable of giving every able-bodied man a job were:

- A six-year public works construction budget with a $100,000,000 reserve fund.
- The retirement of 15,000,000 acres of hard-scrabble land.
- A broadening of subsistence homestead work with a further decentralization of industry.

FLOOD CONTROL

Studies pointed to the development of flood control, power or irrigation projects on 17 watersheds including the St. Lawrence.

Federal assistance and control of the mineral industries to "minimize waste and natural resources maintain reasonable waste standards and protect investments."

In addition, the report brought a wide range of recommendations on land purchases; forest, pasture and wild life refuges; homestead; land use; irrigation; grazing; Indian policies; soil erosion; water; public works state and regional planning; mining and a general re-estimated national planning for the future.

MINERAL INDUSTRY

While generally favoring private operation of mineral industries under government supervision if necessary, the board said it might be advisable to extend government ownership to oil, bituminous coal to the extent of giving strategic concentration to purchasing a selected acreage of coal land as a means of controlling capacity.

Taking population increase into account, as well as prospects of agricultural products in exports and in crop yields, the board estimated the nation's arable land resources at 360,000,000 acres harvestable by 1960.

CROP LAND PLAN

Between 20,000,000 and 30,000,000 acres of crop land must be provided to meet requirements in 1960, the board believed. Export requirements would be a factor.

Since 25,000,000 acres ought to be removed from cultivation because of poor quality or to prevent further deterioration, the board said it probably would be necessary to obtain an extra 50,000,000 acres of arable land to increase productivity during the next 25 years.

NEW N.R.A. TIGHTENS UP FOR LABOR

Minimum Wage For All, Codes For All, Is Demand

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Minimum wage for all working men, skilled as well as unskilled in the new N.R.A., was demanded Sunday by the United States Recovery Unit's Labor Advisory Board, a memorandum to the administrative head headed by Clay Williams.

The law to continue the Recovery agency, the Labor Board insisted, also should provide specifically for: "Importation of codes on all unincorporated industries."

Strengthened compliance machinery.

CORRECTING FAILURES

These demands, the board said, were "aimed at correcting outstanding failures of the N.R.A. according to the congress' objective of a new economic democracy."

Hundreds of thousands of workmen, the Labor board said, were "not only denied the protection of minimum wage and maximum hours provisions, but also the wide coverage of section 7A as a result of the failure of some industries to obtain codes."

Section 7A of the Recovery Act forbids Labor's right to organize.

NEW N.R.A. TIGHTENS UP FOR LABOR

Minimum Wage For All, Codes For All, Is Demand

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Minimum wage for all working men, skilled as well as unskilled in the new N.R.A., was demanded Sunday by the United States Recovery Unit's Labor Advisory Board, a memorandum to the administrative head headed by Clay Williams.

The law to continue the Recovery agency, the Labor Board insisted, also should provide specifically for: "Importation of codes on all unincorporated industries."

Strengthened compliance machinery.

CORRECTING FAILURES

These demands, the board said, were "aimed at correcting outstanding failures of the N.R.A. according to the congress' objective of a new economic democracy."

Hundreds of thousands of workmen, the Labor board said, were "not only denied the protection of minimum wage and maximum hours provisions, but also the wide coverage of section 7A as a result of the failure of some industries to obtain codes."

Section 7A of the Recovery Act forbids Labor's right to organize.

LABOR EQUALITY

"We therefore recommend that the Act be amended to give labor to a special board, on which labor should have equal representation, to impose Labor codes on any industry which has not voluntarily presented acceptable code to make amendments to any code which in the board's judgment requires amendment and to apply section 7A of the Act to any industry, trade or group which has not been codified," the report said.

Communists' Plans To Seize Country Go All Awry

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Dec. 17.—More than 500 persons, including 175 soldiers, were arrested Sunday at Haskovo in Southern Bulgaria, charged with complicity in what was described by police as a Communist conspiracy.

Plans which fell into the hands of the authorities indicated the conspirators intended to seize all army arsenals, kill all officers and non-commissioned officers, and establish a Soviet state.

Raiding the homes of the suspects, police found quantities of arms, anti-government handbills and other propaganda material.

The leader of the movement was said to be a Communist named Stoeff, who with his companions recently raided the town of Odrin and plundered the municipal treasury. He was taken prisoner.

Scientists Trace Love, Hate, To Cabbage Patch

Joy, Sorrow Grew With Beans and Carrots

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—Scientists outlined a way Friday by which love and hate might be grown in a vegetable garden along with beans and carrots. Likewise, the annual exhibit of scientific work of the Carnegie Institution of Washington described a manner by which sorrow and joy might be planted along with beans and cabbages.

These emotions, it was explained, depend chiefly on gland secretions and some of the gland secretions which govern emotions have been found by scientists to originate in the yellow pigments of plants. When the plants are eaten they help to manufacture in the body the hormones or gland secretions that govern emotional behavior.

One of the hormones which governs emotional activity was traced by scientists to "anthoxanthin," one of the yellow pigments of plants. This yellow pigment, and another, "carotene," are found in tomatoes, pumpkins, leafy greens, carrots, egg yolks and butter.

Another hormone that governs emotion is adrenalin, which is secreted in large quantities by the adrenal gland when a person feels anger.

Manchu Guards Loot Arsenal

MUKDEN, Manchukuo, Dec. 17.—Some 80 provincial guards multimed Saturday at Hingham, it was announced Sunday.

Previously the mutineers attacked Tanguan, destroyed the powder magazine, looted the arsenal of 11 machine guns and 3,000 rounds of ammunition, and occupied the local police station.

Japanese and Manchukuo troops took precautions against further attacks.

Most of the improvements concern the riding qualities of the car. There is now more comfort both in driving the car and riding in it—and it was always a very comfortable car to drive. This year we have paid particular attention to the comfort of the back seat rider. The rear seat is now forward of the rear axle, so that all passengers ride between the axles. With the new flexible springs, this gives what has been aptly described as "a front seat ride for the back seat passengers." Besides, it has permitted changes in the design of the body which have resulted in those lines of beauty so much in favor with automobile owners today.

We have always had three fundamentals—Durability, Economy of operation and maintenance, and Comfort. Safety, of course, is taken for granted. The Durability is just what it always was; no one needs to be told at this late date that Fords are built to last. The Economy is even greater than before—an 8-cylinder engine with the economy of a four. As to Comfort, however, there has been a very considerable advance, as I think you will agree when you have tried the car out.

We built more than 20,000,000 cars previous to the V-8. We have built 1,300,000 V-8 cars. The V-8, we believe, is the proper engine for the low-price car field, which is our field.

This 1935 car will be on display December 29th, with all details ready for your information. It is entirely probable that some of our prices will be lower than in 1934. We want them lower because we expect to build a million cars and better next year, and the price must be right. If the price is right, people will buy; men will go back to work; a thousand related businesses will feel the new impulse. At least, we are trying to make 1935 a busier, happier and more hopeful year.

The improvements we offer are not experimental in any sense; they were thoroughly tried out under every conceivable circumstance before we finally adopted them. That, in fact, is our job all the year round—refining, improving, making new balance of qualities, always adhering closely to our principle of continuous growth in the basic purpose of the Ford car.

The 1935 V-8 engine is practically the same engine we built in 1934, because we have not learned how to build a better one. It has, however, some refinements; amongst which are the copper-lead connecting rod bearings, and the new type of crankcase ventilation.

FIRST MARRIAGE DISSOLVED AFTER SEVEN YEARS—John Barrymore (John Blythe) was married first to Katherine Corri Harris, New York socialite, in 1910. They are pictured above. The marriage, which was against the wishes of the bride's father, was dissolved in 1917. According to one statistician 60.6 per cent. of the men and 64.3 per cent. of the women in Hollywood have secured a divorce at least once

SIX YEARS AFTER START—John Barrymore in "A Stubborn Cinderella"

DOLORES COSTELLO IS PRESENT MRS. BARRYMORE—Three months after his divorce from his second wife, John married Dolores Costello. She calls him "Winkie." They have two children, Dolores Ethel Mae, 3, and John Blythe, Jr., 2

THE SECOND MARRIAGE—John married his second wife, Mrs. Leonard M. Thomas (pen name: Michael Strange), in 1920. They had one daughter, Diana, who was placed in the custody of the wife after their divorce in 1928

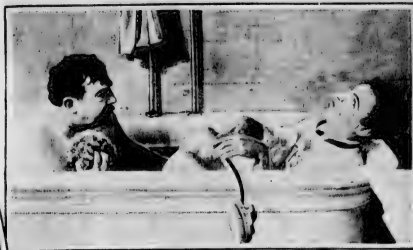

Lionel Barrymore

LIONEL BARRYMORE BECAME FAMOUS IN 1931—He made his debut on the stage at the age of 15, with his maternal grandmother, Mrs. John Drew, started in the movies in 1909. He never became as famous on stage or screen as his brother John, until he played in "A Free Soul," in 1931. His splendid acting won the award of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences for the best performance of the year, made him a box office star. His first wife was Doris Rankin. His second and present wife, Irene Fenwick, he married in 1923. Above: Two early pictures. At right, in 1905, when he was playing in "Pantalone"

HOLLYWOOD UNMASKED

Rare Photos Show Filmdom As It Is "Behind the Scenes" Tricks of Picture-Making and Careers of Stars Revealed

JOHN BARRYMORE WANTED TO BE AN ARTIST—He wanted to paint and took one lesson in art school and quit. Then he was fired from a newspaper and made his debut on the stage in 1903, when 21. He was among the first movie stars, being so rated in 1911. He is seen above in a 1918 movie, "On the Quiet." Only four other stars receive a higher weekly salary than his $6,500. (Catho, $9,000; Will Rogers, $7,500; Chevalier, $7,000; Constance Bennett, $7,000.) Thirty-seven stars rate higher at the box office. John has a sharp tongue, rarely attends Hollywood social functions, prefers that his profile be photographed from the left side

AFTER AN ABSENCE OF MANY YEARS—Ethel Barrymore returned to the screen in 1933 to appear with her two brothers in "Rasputin and the Empress." Left to right: Lionel, Ethel and John

HERBERT BLYTHE WAS BORN IN INDIA—When he went on the stage he took the name of one of his early ancestors, Lord Barrymore. This name his children have kept. Barrymore had a magnificent stage presence, which his children inherited. Of the three of them, John is most like his father. Above photo was taken of Barrymore on stage, about 50 years ago, when he was playing in "Pique," with Emily Rigg. He died in 1905.

ETHEL BARRYMORE MADE HER DEBUT ON THE STAGE WHEN SHE WAS 15—She married Russell Griswold Colt in 1909, divorced him in 1923. Dominions Beaten By Shutout Score In Close Contest

Light Enlivens Encounter In Second Period As Players Mix

By BILL LEWIS

Rambling home one goal in the third, Coach Lloyd McIntyre's champion Superiors marked up a 4-0 triumph over the visitors. Hard-fighting Dominions in their series hockey engagement at the arena on Saturday night.

Pressed hard throughout by their determined opponents, it took the Superiors exactly half of the regulation playing time before their first marker came, and they went until about mid-way through the final period before the second tally was recorded.

It was the first game of the winter season between the clubs and the triumph was the third in as many starts for the victors, who had previously taken two decisions from the hands of the home team over the U. of A. to their credit.
